

BUILDING CULTURE AND CAPACITY

We want to see a healthy world where people live their passions, organizations thrive, and everyone works to their true best selves. We don't think it's too much to ask, and we know how to help organizations thrive while doing good work.

ABOUT US

Wiser Wolf principals, Sheila Terryll and Mark Hiemenz, each bring more than 20 years of a rich, multi-sector work history in leadership and strategy. We have created change in environments by:

- Researching, establishing and building national and local philanthropic partnerships
- Creating a private fundraising organization to develop resources for public education
- Transforming organizations from dated to relevant, modern-day models
- Leading fundraising to support grassroots advocacy, resulting in legislative policy and change
- Guiding annual fundraising, special projects, corporate giving, and capital campaigns
